

EnVision Visual Performance Design software will be available in Dutch by October 2012.

Kitchener, Ontario, Canada
Saturday, September 8, 2012

Earlier this year, Box5 Software announced a new partnership and exclusive reseller agreement with Artdevelopment.nl, a new design company in the Netherlands. With the assistance of Artdevelopment.nl, Box5 Software will be launching their revolutionary drill design software EnVision in Dutch.

"Our partnership with Artdevelopment.nl has been invaluable in increasing our brand awareness in the European market," says Emile Mclean, Director of Marketing and Business Development for Box5 Software. "One of our top priorities is to continue to make our customers' drill writing experience as fluid as possible. A major step in the right direction is offering our software in other languages. Supporting our partner's market was an obvious place to start and we are excited that we were able to make this happen in such a short period of time."

Artdevelopment.nl provides design and consultation services to marching bands, drum corps, show corps, winter guards and indoor percussion groups across Europe.

Consumers in Europe interested in learning more about EnVision drill design software can contact the Artdevelopment.nl team, Frank Ranzijn at frank@artdevelopment.nl and Robby Overvliet at robb@artdevelopment.nl.

EnVision Visual Performance Design software will be available in Dutch before the end of October 2012. Keep visiting the Box5 Software website and social media channels on Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn or Google+ for updates.

###

About Box5 Software

Founded in 2010, Box5 Software is privately held software development company based in Kitchener, Ontario, Canada. Their mission is to create software that enables people to fully express their imaginations, explore new ideas in movement and create inspired productions. Their first product is EnVision Visual Performance Design Software.

EnVision software is available for immediate download and purchase from the Box5 Software website at www.box5software.com.

To learn more about Box5 and our EnVision software or to schedule an interview, please contact Emile Mclean at emclean@box5software.com.